Who shall attend to the Congress

The Congress, sub-divided in various levels of meetings, is addressed to different types of participants.

The first level of meetings – the scientific sessions – is of particular interest to NFP teachers, gynaecologists, doctors, midwives and researchers as a necessary update on the recent developments in the NFP field, dealing with scientific aspects of methodologies of NFP teaching and teaching aids.

The second level of meetings – the anthropologic, cultural and ethical sessions - is addressed not only to NFP teachers but also to educators and family counselors. It also addresses all those who, involved in the wider promotion of the family, promote NFP; it helps them be more knowledgeable about recent studies and become aware of experiences and testimonies of how NFP is lived by couples.

A third level of meetings – open to the public, even if not registered at the Congress – addresses young people, young couples and educators. It aims to be a public proposal of the beauty of NFP as a way of life. This level is of particular interest to NFP teachers, as they would see in action a methodology that is effective and endearing in relating with young people and couples.

The final, fourth level of meeting is addressed to medical professionals – doctors, gynaecologists and midwives – to help them understand better the impact of NFP in the exercise of their profession in general.

Finally, the administrators of the various associations of teachers and promoters of NFP will have the opportunity to become aware of the activities of associations worldwide and the opportunity to exchange experiences and knowledge to instill new impetus, courage and enthusiasm in their activities.
